Shhh! We don't want those Elite Shadow Knights to hear us.

I only hope we won't be too late.

Race Day with Scuderia Ferrari!

The Formula 1 season is now underway! Why not take a trip to the racetrack with the LEGO Scuderia Ferrari Truck? Winning the chequered flag on race day takes lots of high-tech equipment, and this truck is loaded with racing gear! Although you can see the Scuderia Ferrari Truck at the race track, it won't be on shelves until August when the team will have already participated in 13 of the 19 Grand Prix races for 2005.

OFFICIAL LICENSED PRODUCT

Up to a week before a Formula 1 race, the team arrives and unpacks the tools and equipment from their truck on the pit walk.

1 Using motor testing equipment, the pit crew puts the powerful V10 engine through its paces before installation in the Ferrari Formula 1 race car. The team will bring up to six engines with them. If they need to change one they can do it in just twenty to thirty minutes!

2 Days before the race, the driver and crew test the car on the track, making sure that every aspect of the car is running at peak performance.

3 During Qualifying, all of the racing teams try to get the fastest qualifying times. The quickest driver overall wins Pole Position for the start of the race.

4 A new rule for 2005 means that drivers can only change tyres during a race if they get damaged. The team still has to carry a variety of tyre types for different weather conditions. When they do need to be changed there are three pit mechanics for each wheel!

5 It's Race Day! A Formula 1 race puts both the racecar and driver through a great deal of stress. Many drivers lose weight during the race from sweating so much!

This monster truck may be small, but don't let its size fool you. It's still the fastest thing on four wheels! Customize your Flame Storm Truck with hot flame stickers on the sides and roof to let everyone know it's ready to race and win!

MISSION OF THE JEDI™

High above Coruscant, capital planet of the Republic...

Alert! Alert! Enemy starfighters approaching!

Be cautious, Anakin. This attack may be a trap.

These Separatists grow more daring every day. Master Obi-Wan, let's show them what it means to challenge the Republic... and the Jedi!

BOOM!

I'm tired of caution! Trap or not, I'll destroy these droid ships!

Anakin, wait!

As Anakin Skywalker recklessly rockets into battle, a droid tri-fighter launches its deadly cargo!

What was that?

CLANK!

BOOM!

BUZZZZZZ

Whoops - it's a buzz droid!

Qui-Won watches Anakin's hot-shot flying with concern.

No strength in the Force is indeed great... so why does that worry me not?

"The planet Kashyyyk is under attack by Separatist forces. Master Windu has been assigned to protect it. You're being sent to help him fight off the invaders."
